Irma Oil Development Company Selects Site for 1st Well

Local Company Decide That First Well Will be Just West of Irma.

The confirmation of the report that the Irma Oil Development Company has selected the location of their first well on the N. E. of Section 28-45-9 and the rumors that other big companies had been completing arrangements for development work on leases west and south of Irma, has caused considerable new interest in this end of the Irma-Fabyan-Wainwright fields. Since July last when the Imperial Oil Company struck the first big showing of oil and gas the interest has been centred around the well at Fabyan. For this reason many of the holders of leases in Townships 45-9 allowed their leases to be cancelled rather than pay another year's rental, and some three thousand acres of choice leases have been cancelled. During the last month the Dominion Land Agent at Edmonton has had applications to have all the cancelled leases in this township put up by auction in accordance with the regulations. These leases will all be offered to the highest bidder on Monday, Nov. 20th next. At the last auction of leases held in September leases in this township brought a bonus of from $2.00 to $10.00 each and several leases were not bid in. No doubt with the new interest that is being shown on account of the prospect of development in this township all of the leases offered will be sold at a good premium.

Since the Irma Oil Development was incorporated some six weeks ago no definite information has been given out as to where they intended drilling their first well. The general impression appeared to be that it would be on one of the leases held by them in Township 45-7 near the Imperial or British Petroleum wells. Since the local company was incorporated they have arranged for drilling rights on several choice leases near Irma which were not included in their prospectus. As several prominent geologists appear to be well impressed with the formation in this part of the field and as they think the chances of finding oil are as good here as in other parts they have decided on the above location for their first well. Should they find after striking the gas sands that the indications are not as good for oil as near some of the other wells that are being drilled they will be in a position to find a ready sale for the gas to the citizens of Irma and they will be still in a position to drill near the most promising well in any of the new fields. With leases near all the wells being drilled and near the holdings of other companies that are planning on operations in the spring, the local company stands a good chance of eventually being one of the largest producers of oil in the district.

Oil Investments Are Becoming More Popular

The petroleum industry is rapidly swinging far in advance of all industries on the stock market. The New York Times notes a billion dollar rise in Standard Oil. $494,464, 946 of the advance in shares this year having been recorded during the last two months. Recent developments in Alberta are already being reflected in the financial districts in the east and coast cities and it will be surprising how quickly the financial conditions in the Alberta cities and towns will be changed, as by magic as soon as the investing public become aware of the great possibilities in store for the man who gets in at the start.

Northern Montana Fields as Example
Last spring the Kevin-Sunburst fields of Northern Montana were practically in the same condition as the fields between Viking and Wainwright are at the present time. In March the Gordon Campbell well near Kevin, was completed. Since then some eighty locations for new wells have been made and every few days sees a new well completed ready to pump oil to the pipe lines that are being laid by the different refining companies. Several large dividends have been paid by some of the companies that were fortunate enough to secure blocks of acreage before the demand became active. One company the "Kevin-Sunburst" it is reported has already paid each shareholder 1500 per cent on the capital invested. This was paid from the sale of acreage to two large producing companies the Ohio and California, both subsidiaries of the Standard. Several of the development companies will commence the payment of dividends as soon as the monthly returns start coming in from the crude oil which they are starting to supply to the pipe lines.

Central Alberta's Prospects Good.
That the results that have been attained south of the Alberta boundary will be surpassed in the promising and extensive fields tributary to Irma has been conceded by many of the best geologists and experienced oil men of the day. Already a much heavier gas pressure has been encountered in any of the wells that have been drilled to the gas sand. Mr. G. L. Huntley, the geologist and expert who has been giving evidence before the Utilities Commission in connection with fixing the rate for gas for the city of Edmonton, is reported to have stated that the Company supplying gas had excellent chances of finding oil and gasoline as their operations would be extended. The evidence produced at the Fabyan well proves beyond a doubt that oil of a heavy quality has been found. That more oil and of a better quality will be produced by deeper drilling is generally considered by geologists and experienced oil men who have inspected the well site.

Will Mean Much to Farming District.
The completing of the two and a half million dollar refinery by the Imperial Oil Co. and the possibility of cheaper gasoline and oil for automobile and tractor use will be greatly appreciated by the farmer settlers. In Alberta farmers are paying about 55 cents a gallon for gasoline (nearly double the price paid at American points) millions of dollars worth of farm machinery is lying idle because of the high price of gasoline and farmers are working their fields with horses.

The Oil Prospects at Coutts and Sweetgrass

By W. A. Rae, of Grande Prairie

Well, its there, I saw it. In fact I touched, tasted and handled it. It felt like oil, it tasted like oil, it smelt like oil, and by jove it was oil.

The need for all this emphasis on the very existence of such a thing as oil that there are many citizens of our province who have cheated the butcher and baker and in some cases have coaxed the banker into an overdraft for the sake of acquiring a few acres of oil leases; and old father time has skidded the second year's actual results in oil production that we may often have felt that there was no such animal as oil. But it is there for sure.

How far is Alberta from a productive oil field? Well, it depends on which way you are looking. If you are looking south, Alberta is 11 miles from a really producing field and if you are looking downward it may be several hours being drilled that are just as likely as not to strike oil only three hundred feet for there are within thirty days. In fact, judging from the show of structures that are indicative of oil bearing formations, the Alberta side of the line would have the preference by far. The only thing is that Montana has the oil because they drilled the holes and got it, and when the operating companies want to illustrate their territories in order to justify their work or to sell more stock, they draw on their imagination and construct a fanciful anticline. This ought to be one of the greatest pleasures imaginable. What joy could be greater than after a person found himself in possession of a fortune to argue himself into believing that every step had been planned by himself and to scorn the idea that any part of its accomplishment was by accident.

There are sixteen producing wells in the Sunburst-Kevin field, which lies immediately south of the boundary line. There are fifty others being drilled. The total production is over 1,000 barrels a day and there are signs that those who know are regarding it as a proven field by the best fact possible; they are getting in behind it with their own cash. In addition to large individual and company interests coming into the field to drill in increasing numbers, other branches of the oil business are already at work. The Illinois has already a 37,500 barrel tank built and last Sunday the first oil was run into it. The Ohio Oil Company has one that looks like a small village. Pipe lines are being built and tank trucks are to be seen on the roads in strings. The Great Northern Railway has built a spur to a loading station so that oil may be filled into the tank cars and shipped to the refinery; and the Imperial Oil Company is erecting a $2,600,000 refinery at Calgary, will surely be taken as some evidence that they believe the oil being produced in Sunburst and Kevin and the prospect that this can be increased tremendously justify their expenditure. The oil is high grade and at present worth $2.50 per barrel.

Since there is an oil field south of the 49th parallel what are we to do? Perhaps we might move this parallel a latitude. We can always summon Paul Bunyon and his Blue Ox for such a feat. History tells us, however, that it is better for us not to meddle with this line. Whenever the boundary line between Canada and the U. S. was disturbed Canada edged toward the north pole like a magnetic needle.

So it seems that we are left absolutely to the alternative of searching for oil on our own side of the line, and a very deliberate attempt has been made this year. On our side already 10 derricks are on the skyline. Why were our plains left treeless. We can just now guess the answer. So you can see the oil derricks and tanks.

The McLean-Mitchell well is down about 2,100 feet. Nature knowing that Canadians had so much more money than Americans tilted the structure downwards to the north. This means that while Montana operators get their oil at 1,600 feet we must go another 800 feet. The Basalm well is down 1,800 feet. The Imperial Oil Company 1,300. The Border Oil Co. 1,300, others are at shallower depths or all set up ready to go.

The success of the Montana field has already cast its influence far on our side of the line. The Edmonton Calgary train had only 2 sleepers. The Calgary-Lethbridge train had 13 sleepers and all berths occupied. Men really bent on business crowded on to the train and had to wait to get berths. The pleasant change from the dependency of many parts of our province, where both real and imaginary troubles are driving settlers from the country, was a great relief. Lethbridge feels the quicker pulse from the oil excitement and the splendid new Thompson hotel at Sweetgrass is alive with the successful operators of Texas, Wyoming and many new oil fields.

They are singing up our province and are ready to come to us the moment the Fabyan, Pouce Coupe or Peace River fields bring in one well, or transportation is certain to the Fort Norman field, they will swarm into our province and usher in an era of prosperity that will make us forget our present dependency. Here is the first real chance of the great boom for Alberta.

As to agricultural conditions in many areas south of Calgary. There are plenty of signs of splendid crops just harvested. Here are large able bodied stacks of straw, strings of 4 horse teams on the way to the grain elevators or loading platforms, and there seems to be a strong preference for the latter. Stock is in excellent condition. Not an animal was to be seen who was not starting the season in good flesh. But as the Governor of South Alberta said to the Governor of North Alberta—"It is a long time between crops."

What we need is to have our legislature repeal the laws on our statute-books which hamper our officers and inspectors and thus relieve our tax payers of their burdensome and noisy nuisance, show our welcome to investors and ensure safety to capital, and we will find both ready to enter our province.

In a communication to Premier King, the governor-general hopes that the people of Canada will join with His Majesty in making the observance a reality. The two minutes of silence is endorsed by the premier in a statement issued to the Canadian Press tonight.

"On behalf of the government," Mr. King states, "I desire to express the hope that the observance of two minutes of silence at 11 o'clock on the morning of Nov. 11, as requested by His Majesty the King, and to which His Excellency the Governor-General has referred in the accompanying communication, will be made as general as possible throughout all parts of the Dominion."

The Canadian National Railway owns and operates its own sleeping cars and dining cars. These cars, on through trains, are models of luxury and convenience built by experts and embodying improvements resulting from long years of experience in studying the requirements of first class travel. An additional convenience is provided by tourist car service. Canadian National tourist cars are all new and embody the latest and most modern improvements. Charges are only half those for accommodation in standard sleeping cars. For those bringing lunch and desiring to do their own cooking en route, a kitchen is provided in a compartment shut off from the rest of the car. A fire is kept constantly burning in the cook stove and a sink with taps provides hot and cold running water.

The dining cars, with their handsome finish, quiet decorative details and adequate arrangements, furnish a meal-time environment both useful and pleasing and at the same time the Dining Car.

The Canadian National Railways offers patrons the option of travelling all rail to Vancouver or rail to Prince Rupert, thence Grand Trunk Pacific steamships to either Vancouver or Victoria; or the trip may be made going one way and returning the other by a greater number of routes and excursions is expected at these North Pacific Coast resorts, as these cities have taken considerable trouble to make the country side acquainted with the beauties of our coast points as winter resorts. 6t.

Don't be obsolete and knock the oil game. It is the most important and adventure-yielding industry in the world today. If you do not believe it, study the world-politics of oil in Persia, Mesopotamia, Russia, India, Japan, Mexico and Africa. See how the English behave since the announcement by Kemal Pasha that the Mesopotamian fields at Mosul are in Turkish territory!

BOYS' SHARE SELLING CAMPAIGN

The Boys' of Alberta, through the Older Boys' Provincial Board, realizing that it was to go out of business because of lack of finances have decided to come to the rescue. So far only four per cent of the funds of the Boys' Work Board of Alberta have been raised outside of the cities of Alberta. The Boys' Work Board has set up one of the best programs for better Canadian Citizenship that has yet been devised. So much do the Boys' appreciate what has been done for them that they have decided to raise $5,000.00 in the next two weeks. Of course many believe this is impossible for a bunch of boys to accomplish. However Earl Newcombe, Minister of Finance, says it can be done and although he is attending High School in Calgary he came to Wainwright last Saturday to tell the boys how to do it. The shares are only twenty-five cents and entitle the holder to receive dividends of the business on Canadian Christian Citizenship.

The Wainwright district is to raise $200.00 as its share of the $5,000.00. The Irma Boys intend to finish their campaign on the night of the 18th when a Grand Concert will be given in the Co-op. hall free to all shareholders. If the boys fail in their campaign the Boys' Work Board of Alberta will go out of business on the first of the year. The cities of the Province say that if they are to finance the Boys' Work Board as they have largely done in the past then they are going to demand all the services of that Board.

Even though times are hard we cannot afford to deny our rural boys this training and program which means so much to them in laying the foundations for better manhood and citizenship.

The Irma boys are Trail Rangers have placed Irma on the map. Help them to help themselves in this movement for better Canadian citizenship.

BOYS' DAY AT WAIN. WRIGHT HUGE SUCCESS

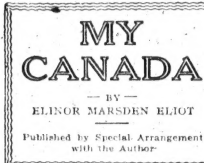

Last Saturday, Nov. 4th over one hundred boys of the Wainwright district met together in Wainwright to hear Taylor Statton, National Boys' Work Secretary of Canada and Wallace Forgie the Provincial Secretary. Large delegations were present from the towns of Holden, Viking, Irma and Wainwright.

The ladies of Wainwright are to be congratulated on the splendid banquet which they prepared for the noon hour. Many of the business men were able to be with the boys for this part of the program. As soon as the "big feed" was nicely over Big Chief Statton took charge of the proceedings and had all the adults acting like kids again.

After some weird yells and silly funny songs everyone was warned up for the address which followed. The meaning of the C. S. E. T. to the boy life of Canada was made clear to everyone present.

Bar B Ranch, September 19th, 19--

I went to church on Sunday, for the first time since I left Winnipeg. It was a beautiful morning, and a breakfast Mrs. Bingham suggested that we should all go to evening service at the Indian Mission on the Reserve, twelve miles away. Ever since coming here I have wished to visit the Reserve, so I was greatly pleased when Mr. Bingham and Mr. Livingston came in with Mrs. Bingham's proposal. We had luncheon early, for we wished to be at the Mission in time to call on some of the Indian celebrities before tea, as the service was directly afterwards.

Halfway between the Bar B and the Mission we came to the "dip," and I got out to see it, with Mr. Livingston as showman. I don't suppose you know what a "dip" is, so I shall describe it as best I can.

At first I thought that the wooden structure I saw was a bridge. It was a bridge, like one, but why build it so narrow? And why so difficult to climb when I reached us, my of the sloping approach I found myself looking down into a reservoir full of water. Mr. Livingston obviously enjoyed my astonishment—I believe he would have enjoyed it even had I fallen into the water—and after waiting for my ignorance, he told me quite seriously that most of the Bar B cattle were shipped to England and the British authorities would not allow them to land until assured that they had been given a bath. I related to him, so he finally told me that ranchers were compelled by law to "dip" their cattle in an antiseptic solution before shipping them, this to prevent the spread of mange or other similar diseases. The cattle are driven up the approach, and when they reach the water there is nothing for them to do but get into it; both approach and reservoir are arranged for them to turn in. There is a gradually sloping floor in the reservoir, and the men are kept there until they are within half a mile of it. To my surprise, the many buildings connected with the Agency and the Mission made a good-sized village, and—to my greater surprise—a very fine one. They are situated in a gentle slope, the hills are all of all—are surrounded by trees and gardens.

They drove directly to the residence of the Indian Agent. His wife, a friendly little woman of forty or so, met us with a hearty welcome. I was told Mrs. Bingham was "a dear," and telling me how friendly she found life on the Reserve. She was seated at a table, and I saw that she, who came out from England to teach the children of the man who owned the ranch where Mr. Paget now lives—and within a year she married the Indian Agent. Single women in Alberta have need to be wary indeed.

By the way, an Indian Agent is not an Indian agent. He is the man appointed by the Government to look after the temporal affairs of the Indians, and is usually—this may be merely scandal—a person of firmly rooted political convictions in favour of the ruling party.

At the first opportunity Mrs. Bingham told me in her own house that I wanted to see "some real Indians," but it was not until after tea that she promised to return for tea that evening. I was to see some real Indians, and Mrs. Bingham came with Mrs. Bingham and me, and Mr. Bingham and Sunny stayed with the Gaylards. Bingham does not enjoy "wandering around like a party of Cook's tourists."

The largest of the Mission buildings is the school. It would need to be large, for there are nearly a hundred children in attendance. The girls' room, as "real Indians" the children were rather disappointing. The boys wear smart dark blue uniforms. The girls' room, as all dressed alike, though not to as good advantage as the boys; but the feminine love of adornment finds expression in hairdresses of every colour of the rainbow and a few never seen in any rainbow. The girls are not at all pretty, but they have very sweet voices, and a half-shy manner that is altogether charming. All the children go to school half of each day. During the other half the boys are taught carpentering and farming, and the girls learn to cook and sew and "keep house" generally. They all seemed to be as healthy and happy as children could well be.

A woman with a sanctimonious way of talking, and an unsanctimonious way of looking at Mr. Livingston, showed us the school. I detect good-looking people. She is young and not by any means plain, and I suppose her enthusiasm is of some use to suffering humanity in beginning to grow cold. But I really do not think that she should waste her arts on Mr. Livingston; he is scarcely the sort of man to be taken in by the purring type of woman. Of course one never knows; he may like to be purred over. I was rather glad to see Mrs. Bingham; she rubbed me the wrong way until I felt like contradicting everything she said, even if she expressed what had been my own opinion a moment before.

Once outside again, we walked around the reserve, and looked at the outside of the other buildings, they, of course, being closed for the day. And then we made two calls. The first celebrity to whom I paid my respects was a dear old lady—I use "lady" advisedly—who is called Ellen Price of Wales. She had an old surname once, but upon learning that she was of the same age as the late King Edward, she changed to the more distinguished title. With her son and his wife and children she had come to spend the weekend at the Mission. Their tent was pitched outside the school fence. "Ellen" and Mrs. Bingham are friends, and she is a little to do but listen to them and how the dogs from carrying me off bodily. CONCERNING A TERROR INSPIRING MOTH

HAVE you ever seen a human skull? It is not, I admit, an attractive thing to look at, or even a cheerful thing, but I am sure that a Death's Head Hawk Moth, now there against the ceiling and walls. It was a Death's Head Hawk Moth, but they don't know that. To them it was merely a terrible thing, for want there a distinct skull outlined atop it?

The little boy's old aunt burst into tears, his mother seemed anxious and even his father, who as a rule was a most sensible person, looked slightly uncomfortable, while the aunt between loud sobs wailed that it was an awful sign of misfortune—or death. She was all for killing it, but the boy ran back to his room, and the Moth out of the open window back into the velvet black of the night. Instead then of directly returning to his history, he first opened another book, one about Moths and Butterflies, and scribbled through the pages he found an exact copy of his little winged visitor. Having read all about it, he returned to his history.

But no—misfortune fell on the boy or on his frightened family. On the contrary, they were very happy, and particularly so was the boy on account of his experience. Every evening he hoped his Hawk Moth friend would again flutter through the window toward his light. Every evening he hoped his Hawk Moth friend would again flutter through the window toward his light. Every evening he hoped his Hawk Moth friend would again flutter through the window toward his light.

Shapes and sizes, and the boy always looked them up in his book and learned all about them before releasing them back to the darkness. This boy later became a great naturalist; just because a wonderfully tinted Moth flew to him one evening with his message of good success.

The Hawk Moth or Sphinx family is a very large one of which there are many different kinds, the best known of which are the Pouter Hawk Moth, the Privet Hawk Moth, the big and little Elephant Hawk Moths, the Humming Hawk Moths, and, last and largest, the Death's Head. This one is seldom seen and only flies at night. It is perfecting itself by day, but is only seen at night. It is perfecting itself by day, but is only seen at night. It is perfecting itself by day, but is only seen at night.

It is perfecting itself by day, but is only seen at night. It is perfecting itself by day, but is only seen at night. It is perfecting itself by day, but is only seen at night. It is perfecting itself by day, but is only seen at night. It is perfecting itself by day, but is only seen at night.

Livestock Receipts At The Leading Markets

Heavy Increase Shown In Western Shipments of Livestock

According to the Dominion Livestock Branch weekly report, some of the principal livestock markets of the Dominion show considerable decreases in cattle receipts from the first of the year to early in September, as compared with the receipts during the same period of last year. The important yards at St. Boniface, Manitoba, however, is reported as showing heavy increases, the numbers marketed during the present year to date as compared with last year being greater by 7,000 head, when compared with offerings of the same period of 1921. The increases in cattle marketings in the western provinces are duplicated by the calf, sheep and hog marketings and more than offset any decreases in marketings in the eastern provinces. The result is that the combined receipts at all yards in the Dominion are in every class in excess of those of the same period of last year. The Toronto and Montreal markets are behind in cattle receipts, Montreal is off in calves and Toronto in sheep, but the combined receipts to September 7th at Toronto, Montreal, Winnipeg, Calgary and Edmonton, as compared with the receipts of the same period last year are: 451,597 cattle, against 377,620; 156,476 calves, against 138,200; 510,553 hogs, against 437,777; and 253,467 sheep, against 229,461.

Top prices on September 14th show as 25c to 75c per hundredweight lower on cattle than on the same date of 1921, excepting at Calgary where the market appeared to be 25c stronger. Calves showed a relatively sharp decline. Hogs were higher at Toronto and Montreal but lower at Winnipeg, Calgary and Edmonton. The prices on choice sheep and lambs were higher at all markets excepting Winnipeg, where the market for hogs was on a somewhat weak basis.

Refuses a Pension

Lord Strathclyde Voluntarily Relinquishes Assured Income of 3,750 Pounds

Lord Strathclyde has astonished the official world by voluntarily relinquishing the pension of £3,750 a year that was granted him seven years ago when he retired from the office of Lord Advocate for Scotland, where he was getting £5,000 a year.

He is 69 years old and declares his reason for giving up the pension is that he is unable, owing to weak health, to take part in the judicial work of the House of Lords. That has only increased the surprise his action has occasioned. Such an exhibition of public spirit is rare in deed.

The British Government makes generous provision for the future welfare of its best-paid office-holders when they join the ranks of those who have retired. The speaker of the House of Commons has a salary of £5,000 a year; he has no pension, but he is to receive a pension of £4,000 a year. The Lord Chancellor, who fills a role in the House of Lords analogous to the speaker of the House of Commons, receives a salary of £10,000 a year and retired pay of £5,000.

OIL LIGHT BEATS
ELECTRIC OR GAS

BURNS 94% AIR

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent. air and 6 per cent. common kerosene (coal-oil).

The inventor, T. V. Johnson, 579 McDermot Ave., Winnipeg, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

Reports Show Motorists Are Careless at Grade Crossings

Railroad companies of the United States made observations at 300 unprotected grade crossings on July 16 and 17. There were more than 206, 000 automobiles passed over these crossings and the observers reported that 156,607 drivers failed to look in either direction. Most of them, however, slowed down to less than twenty miles, a proportion, looked in one direction, but not in the other, and a few, a very few, stopped before crossing the tracks. There are still many motorists who trust to luck.

A MOTHER'S DUTY TO HER DAUGHTER

Health Must be Guarded as She Comes to Womanhood

Every mother who calls to mind her own girlhood knows how urgently her daughter is likely to need health and strength during the years between the early school days and womanhood. It is then that growing girls droop and become bloodless and nervous. Nature is calling for more nourishment than the blood can supply, and signs of distress are plainly evident in dull eyes, plain cheeks, weak and aching backs and a dislike for proper food. These signs mean that the blood is weak and watery. The watchful mother takes prompt steps to give her girl the new, rich blood her system calls for by giving her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. No other medicine has ever succeeded like them and thousands of mothers have proved their worth. Mrs. W. H. McIntyre, Ganouge, Ont., tells what these pills have done for both herself and her daughters. She says: "I have used them for many years, especially in times of weakness and general debility, and have found them a most satisfactory medicine. After a severe attack of influenza I found myself in a nervous condition and resorted to my old tonic—Pink Pills—and they did not fail me. They also gave them to my eldest daughter, who was in a serious condition due to ailments of girls of her age. She complained of headaches and backaches, and would often grow hysterical. She began taking the pills and was soon on the road to health again. She never complains now of headaches or backaches, and I give the credit to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Whenever I see any of my children ailing or in need of a blood tonic, I give them these pills and always with the best results." You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 25 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Refined Weighing Machine

A new laboratory weighing machine can accurately weigh one 600,000,000th part of a single grain. Such refined weighing has to be done in a vacuum, and the instrument is mounted in a container from which the air can be exhausted before the work begins. The actual weighing is done by measuring the vibrations of the balance, by means of a spotlight thrown upon a scale, which shows the actual movements of the balance enormously magnified.

University of Saskatchewan Students To Write Thesis on Marketing

Mr. W. Marketing education, in two words, forms one of the main lines of activity of the Co-operation and Markets Branch, so that anything which tends to the increase of knowledge along these lines must make for the great ultimate advantage of the producers.

Inter-Allied Debts

Situation After the Napoleonic Wars Is Recalled

The September monthly review of the London City and Midland Bank recalls the financial relations of Great Britain and her Continental allies during and after the Napoleonic wars, the purpose of the discussion being to draw analogies or contrasts with the present status of inter-allied indebtedness. The review shows that between the years 1793 and 1816, Great Britain advanced a total of £58,000, 000 to her various allies, of which in addition to the most important was Austria, to whom the advances amounting to over £12,000,000, were made. Of the total advances made by Great Britain, £58,000,000, direct subsidies counted for about £5,000,000, which was not expected or intended to be repaid.

In 1817, however, the total due in respect of the Austrian loans of 1795 and 1797 reached nearly 19½ millions, and a convention was finally agreed in 1823, by which Austria agreed to pay 2½ millions in satisfaction of the whole of the British claims upon the Austrian Emperor under the head of the Austrian loan, and each country reciprocally released claims on the other. As the debt by that time must have been well over £20,000,000, the extent of the remission, according to the Review, probably amounted to over 90 per cent of the debt. Austria met her liability under this convention by borrowing the agreed amount from London bankers. The Review further recalls that at the end of the Napoleonic wars, although the English debt was nearly £900,000,000, or four times as much as that of France, it was agreed that France should pay an equivalent of only £28,000,000 as an indemnity, and England only received her share, amounting to £5,000,000.

Hall's Catarrh Medicine

Those who are in a "raw down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that Catarrh is a local ailment, and is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a tonic and acts through the blood upon the mucous membrane of the body, thus reducing the inflammation and curing the Catarrh and restoring normal conditions.

Weston the Walker

Edward Payson Weston, the famous walker, takes a hike between Buffalo and New York. He moves fast and the trip doesn't fatigue him, though he is 54, at which age most old men have to use a cane to totter to the front porch.

Weston's vitality in advanced years illustrates the lasting benefits of sensible living and plenty of exercise in youth and middle age. In 1870, when 32 years old, Weston walked 100 miles in 232 hours—Buffalo Times.

The Orient in London

Offices of Indian High Commissioner Have Been Transformed

Oriental splendor and English simplicity of design have transformed the offices of the High Commissioner for India into one of the wonders of London.

For the past 18 months skilled English workmen, with some of the choicest woods of India at their service, have been busy overhauling the interior of the two houses occupied by the Commissioner and his staff in Grosvenor Gardens, S.W.

The front floors are of solid Padouk, a wood resembling mahogany in appearance, and decorated with "elephants' heads" of beaten brass. Padouk has also been used extensively for panelling the walls of the entrance halls and the library.

The floors throughout are laid with blocks of Himalayan walnut, and the whole of the staircases have panels of Indian lacquer wood.

In the "showrooms" upstairs are specimens of the finest products of India. Lacquer work, carved ivory, brass work, enamelled trinkets and gaily decorated fabrics are some of the attractions.

There are jointed toys, of crude cloth by the natives—elephants which flap their ears, and a villainous looking tiger with red stripes.

A Household Medicine.—They that are acquainted with the sterling properties of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil in the treatment of many ailments would not be without it in the house. It is truly a household medicine and as it is effective in dealing with many ordinary complaints it is an inexpensive medicine. So, keep it at hand, as the call for it may come most unexpectedly.

Controlling the Weather

Claims Put Forth By Inventors and Scientists Have Come to Nought

Three or four years ago a Sheffield workman claimed to be putting the finishing touches to an instrument to enable him "to move houses of other buildings," and so control the weather. Unfortunately so perfect as he claimed, nothing further has been heard of it. Before that a Leeds scientist had come to the conclusion that it was "within the scope of human possibility to prevent disastrous cyclones, hurricanes and storms, and even to improve permanently the weather of the British Isles." The idea was the production of an instrument enabling the operator to collect or disperse the molecules which form the atmosphere, securing the degree of density desired and so arranging the best weather required for any district or seasonal occupation. More than twelve years ago Sir Oliver Lodge demonstrated that fog could be dispelled by electricity, though the process was too costly for adoption generally.

Birds Keep Below Clouds

Hard for Them to Breathe in Very

High Altitudes

Though some astronomers have on unusually clear nights seen birds crossing between their telescopes and the moons disk, and have estimated their elevations as high as two miles, it is unusual for birds to migrate at altitudes greater than 5,000 feet, as a rule. They tend to keep below lowest clouds. This is desirable because the higher they go the colder it gets and the harder it is for them to breathe. Aviators report having encountered birds above the 5,000-foot altitude.

High-flying birds are geese, cranes, hawks and lapwings. Low-fliers are swallows and other common varieties. When weather is bad, especially when it is cloudy, all birds fly low.

The original name of the famous Broadway of New York was Weckquaesuck. Path, an Indian name meaning "People of the Birch Bark." It was taken from the tribe which occupied the entire upper section of Manhattan Island.

Externally or Internally, it is Good.—When applied externally by brisk rubbing, Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil opens the pores and penetrates the tissue, touching the seat of the trouble and immediately affording relief. Administered internally, it will still the irritation in the throat which induces coughing and will relieve affections of the bronchial tubes and respiratory organs. Try it and be convinced.

Water Relieves Blood Pressure

Blood pressure being one of our most popular ailments, it should assist the "drinkwater" campaigns of some of our water companies to have some of the experiments of two London physicians, Orr and Innes, as described in the British Journal of Experimental Pathology, seem to demonstrate that blood pressure can easily be relieved by copious draughts of water.

Says It Made A New Person
Of Her

"Since I have been taking Tanlac I not only feel better in every way, but I am gaining weight right along," declared Mrs. Mary Gillette, 414 Third Ave., Calgary, Alberta.

"For two or three years I suffered from a bad case of indigestion and a terribly nervous, run-down condition. I fell off from a hundred and twenty pounds to only a hundred and five, and my nerves were so shattered I often felt like I would go to pieces entirely. I didn't have energy enough hardly to do my housework. I had scarcely any appetite, even the little I ate would not digest properly and I was bothered all the time with gas on my stomach."

"But Tanlac has already made a wonderful improvement in my condition, and I have only taken three bottles so far. I have a splendid appetite, never suffer any more indigestion and that tired, exhausted feeling I used to have is all gone. My nerves have calmed down till I feel almost like a new person and am simply stronger and better in every way. Tanlac is a grand medicine and I cannot recommend it too highly."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

The minister was visiting the MacDonalds and was asked to stay to dinner. The party sat down, and before beginning his meal the minister bowed his head over his plate to say grace.

ALBERT DISTRICT NEWS

Our old ball tosser Vergil Anderson and his father are visitors at their brother and son in law Stanley Anderson's place.

We understand there is a new shoe makers shop started just above the Albert school. How about it, Bill?
Mr. Chas. McLean is having a new barn erected which is almost completed. Gordon Facey being the carpenter.

It seems that the young fellows in the Albert district are rather slow as some of our fair ladies have to request the married ones to take them to town to do their shopping. How about it boys.

A Concert and Dance is being held in the Albert school house on Friday the 10th Nov. Admission 50c including chicken supper. Everybody having 50c is welcome but I suppose some of us will have to stay home.

Our friend Low seems to be losing favor with the fair sex nowadays as they do not care to ride with him.
What say, Rose.

The Albert U. F. A. held their regular meeting on Wednesday last, Nov-1st. Since then some of the members have decided that in future the ladies leave their pet dogs at home.
Ladies please take notice.

ANOTHER COAL MINE

OPENED UP

Mr. O. Larson has had a gang of men and teams busy for the past few weeks opening up a coal mine about six miles south east of Irma in the Cold Springs district.

Several years ago farmers in this district secured coal from the out-croppings on the Coulee bank on section 15-45-10. As the coal was removed the bank fell in and stopped the supply until the surface was cleared away and preparations made for opening up a mine. This section at that time belonged to the C. P. R.
who reserved the coal. Recently Mr.
Larson has purchased the land and secured a lease on the coal rights.
As soon as he is ready to supply coal to the farmers in the district he will no doubt receive ready sale for all of his product.

CAN YOU WINTER STOCK

Several parties have enquired of "The Times" for parties who are able to winter some extra cattle. Anyone interested in a proposition of this kind can receive particulars from the Editor. Kindly communicate at once in order to get in touch with some of these parties.

NO TRIAL

A large number of indignant citizens met in Larson's Hall last Wednesday afternoon when they expected to witness the trial of one of our esteemed citizens. Mr. J. A. Hedley was summoned to appear before Mr. A.
W. Toll, J. P. on the charge of not having his license for the pool room in a conspicuous place, but when the J. P. arrived the case was promptly dismissed without giving any reason why the summons had been issued.

Mr. Hedley has had his license in the same place ever since it was issued by the Department, the pool room has been inspected several times since the license was issued and no complaint had been made to him that it was not in the proper place, or that it should be placed in any other place than it has always been in. The pool room has been conducted in accordance with the act as far as Mr. Hedley is able to do so, and we believe everyone at the trial was very indignant that any information should have been laid, especially as no one seemed to know of any reason why the Irma Pool room should be considered in any way evading the law.

Necessity Of Ensuring The Use Of Pure Seed By Farmers Of The West

The Canadian Seed Growers' Association constitutes an organization of experienced seed growers, many of whom devote their principal efforts toward the multiplying and maintaining in their purity and productiveness the "Elite" stock seeds that are produced by expert plant breeders who are for the most part employed in connection with Government Experiment Stations, both Federal and Provincial. Seed growers who are operating under the direction of the association have come to be regarded as the important connecting link between the plant breeder and farmers in general. Without the service of our growers of registered seed, it is reasonable to conclude that much of the excellent results derived from the work of plant breeders would become dissipated and, in consequence, farmers in general would not receive the full benefit from their work.

Heretofore, local demand for registered seed absorbed a large proportion of the total quantity produced within the district where it was grown. The secretary, by means of an annual catalogue and reply to inquiries, has been able to supply a marketing intelligence service which in most years enables seed growers to distribute their registered and other good seed. The recent enlargement of the plan for registration has made it practicable to develop seed production centres with quite extensive acreage of seed crop under superior conditions of soil and cultural practices that are particularly favorable to the kind of crop. Thus the total production of registered seed and of Extra No. 1 seed grown from registered seed, has been, and is being, increased in geometric ratio as compared with ten years ago. It is important that effective measures be adopted to ensure the efficient distribution and the general use of all the best quality of seed produced by our growers, and in addition that any surplus remaining in favorable years of production be made available for export. Our best quality of seed, however, has come to be highly regarded in many of the States to the south.

Unfortunately, because of the want of proper organization, the distribution of registered seed, and of Extra No. 1 grade of seed which is grown from registered seed, has not been fully satisfactory. It was this fact that led to the passing of a resolution at the present annual meeting of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association, recommending the formation of organizations for assembling, cleaning, storing, financing and marketing of superior quality seeds of all kinds of our staple crops; and that, pending the organization of a Canadian Seed Growers' Co-operative Association, the Seed Purchasing Commission be given authority to provide a service for selling the surplus of such seed.

The constitution and charter of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association do not provide the authority necessary to enable it to enter into the field of merchandising on behalf of its members. Being supported in part by the Government, it would be quite improper for that association to enter into competition with private companies engaged in the seed business. The Government now has a fairly well established and experienced organization for the merchandising of seed grain, the Seed Purchasing Commission, and inasmuch as trading is not generally regarded as a proper function of a Government, it is to be expected that as soon as cooperative endeavors in the assembling and distribution of good seed have become sufficiently well developed to meet the very real needs of agriculture, particularly in the prairie provinces, the operations of the Seed Purchasing Commission may thereafter be discontinued as a Governmental institution.

The Provincial Government of the provinces of Quebec several years ago established and now have an excellent assembling, cleaning and distributing plant at St. Rosalie Junction, Quebec. The Provincial Government of British Columbia have more recently developed and are in process of guiding the development of an assembling, cleaning and distributing plant at Penikese, B.C. The farmers' co-operative organization of the province of Prince Edward Island have an efficient seed warehouse and cleaning plant at Kensington, P.E.I. The grain growers of Saskatchewan have had under consideration for several years the setting apart and equipment of two or more of their elevators for the assembling, cleaning and distribution of Registered and Extra No. 1 seed grain. The latest very satisfactory information is that the Minister of Agriculture for the province of Alberta has indicated that that province he will provide on the basis of service at cost, well equipped warehouse facilities for the assembling, cleaning and distribution of Registered and Extra No. 1 seed grain and other seeds that may be grown in the province of Alberta.

In the future there will be need for similar efficient plants for the assembling, cleaning and distribution of Registered and Extra No. 1 seed grain and other seeds that may be grown in the province of Alberta. It is not difficult to see that the need for such plants for the assembling, cleaning and distribution of seed is really needed and without the Canadian seed growers doing more than demonstrating their usefulness and the sound economy of their development and operation on the basis of service at cost. These special seed cleaning and distribution warehouses ought not to become a public charge, and assuredly will not become a public charge unless, as frequently happens their development gains a momentum in excess of requirements, with the result of having warehouses where they ought not to be established.

Retires After Long Service

Major West Served With Scarlet Riders in Peace River

A pioneer of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and the first officer to be appointed in the Peace River country, Major C. H. West, after 34 years service with the force, retired recently on pension.

Major West had a varied career with the force, seeing in many capacities during his long service. The history and traditions of the force appealed to him, and after studying medicine in London, the Major came to Canada in 1888 and immediately joined the Mounties. He graduated in medicine and surgery in the North West Territories and six years later he came to Peace River for the first time with the rank of hospital sergeant.

In 1906 he was appointed medical officer at the time when the Dominion Government made its treaty with the Indians in the Athabasca country and the following year he had charge of the R.C.M.P. in the Peace River country. During this period he was for long practically cut off from civilization, receiving mail only about once a year. Mrs. West, a niece of the late Senator T. O. Davis, and a daughter of Col. C. E. A. Patterson, of Montreal, was one of the first white women to visit the post.

After occurring many posts throughout the west, in 1919 he was sent returned to Prince Albert. The Major is now living in British Columbia.

Edison Remedied The Trouble

Made An Electric Device That Would Light A Cigar

At the banquet in New York the other night when Thomas A. Edison was presented with the freedom of the city, Richard Klob, one of the said, who is 80 years old, told his table companions how he used to keep a restaurant, at 164 Pearl Street, where Mr. Edison was in the habit of eating luncheon. After the successful experiment of forty years ago the inventor came in the next day and asked, "How were the lights, Dick?" "All right," I replied, "but they won't light a cigar. Do you know," said Mr. Klob, reciting his reminiscence, "Edison looked serious. 'That's so,' said he, 'I'll have to fix that.' And three days later he brought in to me a little wired device with which my customers were enabled to light their cigars."

Fast Moving Plane

Can Collect Mail

Bags Are Lifted By Hook Attached To Cable

The research department of the Air Ministry are experimenting with a device by which mail bags can be collected from the ground by an aeroplane travelling at full speed.

It is hoped that, before long, aeroplanes will be able to pick up the mails at intermediate stations, instead of all letters having to be sent to Croydon as at present.

Collection is made by means of a cable lowered from the aeroplane while it hovers at the station. Attached to the cable is a device which hooks the mail bags. They are then hauled up to the aeroplane which does not need to reduce speed. This of petrol can be picked up in a similar fashion.

It may be possible, when the device is perfected, for aeroplanes to collect mails from the roofs of post offices.

The research department attaches considerable importance to the tests, which were carried out in a great secrecy and attended with more extensive experiments are to be carried out. Ordinary aeroplanes are used, and the work could be done just as easily with air liners, such as those now operating on the Continental route, as with a single-seater military machine.

Husband and Wife Nearly Dead With CHOLERA

The chief symptoms of cholera are vomiting and purging occur either simultaneously or alternately, and are usually sudden and very violent, and the matter ejected from the stomach has a bilious appearance and a nasty bitter taste.

On the first symptoms appearing, Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry should be taken, and the trouble checked before it becomes serious. May Isaac Smith, Campbellton, N.B., writes: "We have been using Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for cholera. My husband and I were nearly dead with it until we started to use your medicine, and thanks to it, we have found great relief, and am recommending it to all our friends."

"17 years' reputation stands behind 'Dr. Fowler's' therefore you are not likely to fail with some new and untried remedy when you get it. Price, 50c bottle; put up only by The T. M. M. Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont."

Earliest Idea of Moving Pictures

Englishman Has Traced Growth From Time of Confucius

The earliest idea of a moving picture was recorded in the time of Confucius, the Chinese philosopher who lived 500 years before Christ. At least, this is the deduction drawn from his studies into the question by Will Day, a well-known figure in the English film world who has exhibited in London a collection of "relics and machines tracing the growth of the moving pictures from the first primitive idea to its present form."

The "shadow shows" of the time of Confucius are the first of all known endeavors to present animated pictures. From this early time, however, there was a long period of inactivity in development, for the next record of progressive achievement is found in 1646, when Athanasius Kircher published a book in Latin entitled "Ars Magna lucis et Umbrae," in which a description and illustration is given of a moving picture which the author had evolved with mirrors and a tallow candle for illumination.

Included in the collection is the original disc which Eadweard Muybridge used to settle the controversy between two American millionaires on the "Albion" racecourse as to whether the four feet of a trotting horse were off the ground at the same time.

The experiments which Muybridge carried out is said to have cost the University of Pennsylvania 40,000 pounds, but the fact was proved that a horse did actually lift all four feet simultaneously.

Excellent Phone Service in London Reading through a London telephone directory, a New York man said: "I find instructions to users on each page. One instruction reads: 'Don't shout, 'Hallo' at the operator.' It was my impression that Britishers answered the phone with 'Are you there?' All I have heard answered with the good old American 'Hello.' And the operators—telephoneists, they call them—respond with the same salutation. The telephone service is excellent."

Stone Age Mining District

Mining Carried on at Isle Royale 1,000 Years Ago

Further details concerning the uncovering at Isle Royale of what are believed to be remains of homes used by miners of the stone age, were given by William P. Ferguson, of Franklin, Pa., who was in Port Arthur while on his way home after his summer's activities.

"Isle Royale is definitely placed as a stone age mining district," he said. "Mining was in progress there at least 1,000 years ago; how much longer, we don't know, but we found pits five feet in diameter growing on the ancient rock dumps. I have long believed that there were villages or towns in that vicinity, and I have been hunting for three years for remains of one. This summer we found an area covering at least half a mile in width and two miles long, over the whole of which we found remains of human habitations. These were largely pits, which had been dug for homes. They ranged from eight to ten feet deep, and were protected by carefully built stone walls, which kept them free from water. Some of these walls had been pushed and leveled by the forests of passing years. Apparently they had been covered by wooden roofs. Some of them were 20 to 40 feet in diameter, these evidently being communal dwellings. We found one 50 by 80 feet that had evidently been a fort."

"These pits had been oriented, the sides running squarely east and west and north and south, the long sides being straight north and south, indicating that the people who built them perceived the relation of the stars and the sun to the earth."

"These people mined in solid rock the whole island over, but did not dig their shafts more than about 20 or perhaps 30 feet deep. Their tools were black egg-shaped stones of great hardness, which are found on the shores of Black Bay, on the north shore of Lake Superior, but not on Isle Royale."

If he pays as he goes always find a warm welcome on his return.

A Glimpse Of The New Canada Described By A Visitor From London

Triumph Of Modern Dentistry

People Can Be Supplied With Teeth Any Shade

The manufacture of sets of jet black false teeth represents an out-of-the-way side of British enterprise. It will be news to most people that there is a definite trade in black teeth between England, the Orient, and even necessary by the practice so popular east of Suez, of chewing betel nut. As a masticatory the betel nut leaves chewing gum far behind, for it is reckoned that one-tenth of the human family indulge in it but it stains the teeth of its voracious black as ebony. Hence, when they need artificial teeth to replace losses those teeth must be black. Examples of these are to be seen at the International Dental Exhibition, which opened recently at the Imperial Institute, South Kensington.

A definite side of modern dentistry is represented by these black teeth. No longer is it necessary for clients to accept teeth which stand out in challenging distinction to their neighbors and proclaim their artificiality to the world. Every shade and shape is now matchable. Even the boss who for thirty years has been "rolling the quid" can be supplied with teeth bearing the counterfeits of tobacco juice. The ordinary person has twenty-five different shades at his disposal, and shades seem to be innumerable. Even teeth with make-believe gold fillings are supplied.

California and New York were arguing.

"You're always bragging about your climate," complained New York. "I wish you'd tell me what there is in it so superior to mine."

"No comparison," declared California scornfully. "You have a wet climate all day. All you have is different weather."—American Legion Weekly.

The Taj Mahal, at Agra, is said to be the world's most celebrated mausoleum. Built of white marble and inlaid with precious stones, it cost $10,000,000, and 20,000 men, it is estimated were occupied 20 years in the building of it.

Writing in the London Times, of which he is managing director, after a return visit to his native country, Sir Campbell Stuart has most interesting comments to make on Canadian affairs at the present day.

In returning to Canada this last summer I had a fixed intention to revisit the great Prairie Provinces and see for myself the new Canada that had developed there since I was a boy. Ill-health prevented the realization of that wish and I do to content myself with remaining in my native Province of Quebec. I do not want it to be thought that I grumbled at having to stay there, for I wonder if anywhere in the world the traveler can find such peace and contentment as in the back country of French Canada. Labor difficulties are practically unknown, and the simple, picturesque, healthy life of the French-Canadian habitant always proved to me that they had learned the secret of happiness. They seem to have learned also the secret of prosperity. The Province of Quebec had a surplus this year of about $600,000, a surplus which, according to T. Taschereau, the Provincial Premier, is equal to the surplus of all the other provinces for the last five years.

It was a very different Canada to the one I had known. I found the young men were more interested in public affairs than before the war. I found the consciousness of nationhood more apparent. I found a greater realization of the fact that she needs all her brains, be they in the east or in the west, English or French, to guide her destinies at this critical hour in his history. I found a real desire to remain a nation in the British League of Nations, but at the same time a very proper wish to look after her own affairs. The important international relations which interests Canada today is the appointment of a Canadian minister to Washington. The order-in-council provided that in the absence of the British Ambassador he should be in charge of the Embassy. In my opinion the Minister will have enough work to do to look after the affairs of Canada, to whom he is responsible without embroiling her in world matters. Could not the British Counsellor of Embassy become Charge d'Affaires in the ordinary way? That Canada did want a Minister there I have no doubt. Canada's interests at Washington are enormous, and the man who is charged with them should understand in every detail the feelings and the wish of the Canadian people.

What Canada needs more than anything else is population. She needs a strong immigration policy, together with the widest possible advertisement of what she has to offer. Her empty spaces are calling for settlers. She has less than three people to the square mile, whereas her neighbor across the border has thirty-five, and the Japanese across the Pacific have more than three hundred.

An important island in West Africa has the odd name of "Banana."

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Special Care of Baby.

That Baby should have a bed of its own all are agreed. Yet it is more reasonable for an infant to sleep with grown-ups than to use a man's medicine in an attempt to regulate the delicate organism of that same infant. Either practice is to be shunned. Neither would be tolerated by specialists in children's diseases.

Your Physician will tell you that Baby's medicine must be prepared with even greater care than Baby's food.

A Baby's stomach when in good health is too often disarranged by improper food. Could you for a moment, then, think of giving your ailing child anything but a medicine especially prepared for Infants and Children? Don't be deceived.

Make a mental note of this:—It is important. Mothers, that you should remember that to function well, the digestive organs of your Baby must receive special care. No Baby is so abnormal that the desired results may be had from the use of medicines primarily prepared for grown-ups.

THE HOME BOOSTER'S CREED

Here in the crowd of a loyal spirit, of trade-booster who gives good reasons why one should support the home merchant.

I buy at home—
Because my interests are here.
Because the community that is good enough for me to live in is good enough for me to buy in.

Because I believe in transacting business with my friends.
Because I want to see the goods.
Because I want to get what I buy when I pay for it.

Because my home dealer "carries" me when I am short.

Because every dollar I spend at home stays at home and works for the welfare of the town.

Because the man I buy from stands back of the goods.

Because the man I buy from pays his part of the town, county and state taxes.

Because the man I buy from gives value received always.

Because the man I buy from helps support my school, my church, my lodge, and my home.

Because when I buy, misfortune comes, the man I buy from is here with the kindly greeting, his words of cheer and his pocket book, if need be.

Here I live and here I buy.

The Annual Thanksgiving dinner given by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Viking Community church was held in the Murray building on Monday at six o'clock. The Bazaar and supper given under auspices of the Catholic Women's League last Saturday afternoon and evening enjoyed a wide patronage from both town and district and the local branch of the league cleared a neat sum for their efforts.
